Disheartened seniors move from St. Albert

Senior citizens in St. Albert are disheartened at the lack of suitable self-contained accommodation for them here and some have moved out to Vancouver or Winnipeg in search of greener fields for retirement.

That was what St. Albert council was told at its regular meeting last Monday night by past president of the Senior Citizens Association of St. Albert, Mrs. Lily Szuba. She presented council with the signatures of 800 town seniors, in support of a 44 suite self-contained development which would give St. Albert seniors bachelor style accommodation.

Dr. Bill Cuts and Emile LaPlante, president of the Senior Citizens Recreation Centre, were also in the delegation, which expressed the wish to be informed on a weekly basis on what was being finalized on senior citizens accommodation.

Dr. Cuts raised the problems of why no site had been selected yet, why the application for the development had been delayed from last December to June this year. He also wanted to be reassured that St. Albert would not miss out when the Alberta Housing Commission set its budget for 1976.

He wanted the full co-operation of the MLA and council in this important matter.

"You are the second generation to us," said Dr. Cuts to Mayor Dick Plain, who replied, "you are surrogate parents then," causing a few chuckles.

Mayor Plain suggested to Mrs. Szuba that her petition

Scheduling debate at Paul Kane

A debate is raging at Paul Kane High School over a decision made to cut eight minute breaks between periods down to two minutes.

Two Paul Kane students came into the Gazette office about nine days ago bearing a petition of several hundred names. They want to retain the eight minutes between classes.

School buses from the MD of Sturgeon were scheduled to arrive 10 minutes late at the school this year in order to fit into a timetable. As a result, school has had to start at 9:10 a.m. this year rather than 8:55 a.m.

To make up for the lost time, breaks between 80 minute classes were cut from eight minutes to two minutes. Breaks between 40 minute classes remain fixed at two minutes.

Mr. J. Hrynew, principal of Paul Kane, said a survey was taken on the question in June. About 57 per cent of the students voted for the shorter breaks. The option was to take 12 minutes off the 50 minute lunch hour.

Mr. Gish, superintendent of the protestant school system did not know anything of the problem when the Gazette first called. He later said the school could take the 12 minutes off the noon hour and retain the eight minute breaks. However it would then run the risk of making the other group of students unhappy.

If the 12 minutes were tacked on at the end of the day, the bus schedule would be disrupted. Mr. Gish discussed the possibility of a longer day with a catholic school district representative and found they didn't like the idea. He said that St. Albert High has started at 9:10 a.m.

REV. NOEL GORDON (Centre) set the clock back 100 years when he arrived at the St. Albert Presbyterian Church on horseback last Sunday morning. On his right is Clerk of the Session Bill Bissonnette of St. Albert who helped the Reverend load after his horse Moriah before a Centennial service in the old style was held in the church.

Town remains open on expansion

"We can pull off if we find it's not the best move."

So said Councillor Rod Thronson at the regular meeting of St. Albert town council last Monday night as MLA Ernie Jamison asked council some searching questions over its move to annex in principal some 10 sections of land around St. Albert, to help increase its tax base.

Mr. Jamison said he would need some figures from St. Albert before he could jump in with both feet and give the town support in its efforts to attract industry and thus lower the tax burden for its residents.

The MLA also cautioned St. Albert that they were proposing development, albeit over as much as a 20 year period, on good agricultural land.

He feared that the Edmonton region might develop into an urban giant, larger than New York at over 400 square miles, and that what had happened down east in Toronto and Niagara might happen here - we would be living in a concrete jungle.

When Mayor Dick Plain pointed out that St. Albert and other municipalities had been short on government compensation, Mr. Jamison replied that he had been working for years on the premise that the sharing of benefits from industry should be available to all Albertans and not where the industry located. He also felt that the plan which St. Albert had adopted in principal would go against the grain of the provincial government's policy of decentralization.

Mr. Jamison said that while St. Albert might be looking for industry, that same industry had not been knocking at the MD of Sturgeon's door and yet the land that the town was annexing was under MD jurisdiction at the moment.

Mr. Jamison wanted all the facts and figures laid before the people of St. Albert, though he said he could appreciate council's desire "to lower the tax burden."

It was a fact Mayor Plain pointed out that with industry, or a 35/65 split in assessment St. Albert's tax

Teaching most important ingredient in schools - survey shows

The Education questionnaire issued by District 6 to parents in March this year, its purpose and the preliminary results derived from it, were subjects for discussion at the education meeting held at Sir Alexander Mackenzie School on Wednesday, October 1.

Trustee Don Munro, education committee chairman, gave some background information in connection with the survey to those attending the meeting. He said that the Protestant School District had established an Education Committee comprising all the board members. The committee decided to review all the educational programs offered to district students with a view to revise or expand them, or to offer new programs where required. To aid the establishment of priorities a questionnaire was devised and distributed to parents of the district. The questionnaire was made up in two main sections, the first dealing primarily with general attitudes towards education and related matters, and the second dealing more specifically with curriculum

Lions evening enjoyed by 400

More than 400 people took in the Casino night sponsored by the Breakfast Lions Club at Club Mocombo Saturday evening. It was a case of some kept winning while others kept losing at the 10 blackjack tables and the wheels, while the more cautious players tried to keep the books balanced.

But everybody won at the supper table and organizer Joe Jones had many compliments on the meal which included pyrogy's, chicken and turkey.

A highlight of the evening was the raffle, which saw Jocelyn Tucker of Calgary, the daughter of Bill and Lily Venes, come up with the winning ticket on a Datsun B-210.

Although the figures are not all in yet the event was termed "A great success" by Mr. Jones, both profit wise and as a thoroughly enjoyable evening for the large crowd, who stayed around till one a.m.

Ray Kopechka, the proprietor of David Datsun Ltd., turns car keys over to Jocelyn Tucker, winner of the Breakfast Lions draw held Friday night. Joe Jones, the chairman of the casino for the Lions, looks on.

DUE TO A BREAKDOWN OF THE COPYSETTING EQUIPMENT ON TUESDAY IT WAS NECESSARY TO REDUCE THE PAPER AND WE ARE SORRY THAT A NUMBER OF ARTICLES COULD NOT BE RUN AND WILL BE IN NEXT WEEK.

BOARD NEEDS PARENTS' VIEWS

Mr. Munro explained that the questionnaire is one means of obtaining the opinions, attitudes and concerns of the public which the board represents. He felt it incumbent on the board to procure as much information as possible prior to making decisions which can affect parents, teachers and students.

He said that in recent years there has been a general questioning of previously accepted practices, procedures and curriculum in education. Parents, students and taxpayers are now asking "Why?" and it is up to school boards and educators to come up with a better answer than just "because."

Mr. Munro emphasized the fact that the questionnaire was not to be used to make immediate procedural or policy decisions but rather to identify general areas of concern. He introduced Mrs. John Bakker, who had volunteered many hours to tabulate the questionnaire.

TABULATION JOB

According to Mrs. Bakker, 705 parent-answered questionnaires were received by her. She divided the questionnaires into seven categories according to the divisions in which the parents had children attending. These were coded: A for Elementary, B for Junior High, and C for Senior High and combinations of these categories. Mrs. Bakker considered these categories necessary in view of the experience of the parents in relation to the school divisions and in view of the age of the parents. The report was a preliminary one and more analysis has yet to be carried out. Despite the many hours which had been put into it, not all the questionnaires have yet been tabulated. Tabulations were made as follows:

352 A parents of which 131 were tabulated

58 B parents all of which were tabulated

148 AB parents none of which were tabulated

33 AC parents all of which were tabulated

58 ABC parents all of which were tabulated

45 BC parents all of which were tabulated

11 C parents all of which were tabulated. Mrs. Bakker explained to the meeting that she had handled the task of tabulating the questionnaires in a manner similar to that used in a Gallup Poll. After her explanation the trustees and administrators discussed the results, some of which were predictable, others more enlightening. The committee felt that although the survey is not one hundred percent complete, the preliminary report has opened doors for refinement and has identified certain trends within the community. Some administrators present thought that some of the survey questions were either leading or not specific enough. Nevertheless, they agreed that a lot of meaningful information could be gleaned from it and that the exercise had been a most worthwhile project.

SOME HIGHLIGHTS OF THE SURVEY

*In the area of elementary education, the question as to how kindergartens should be operated was asked with five alternatives given. Out of the 131 questionnaires by parents of elementary children, 50 percent supported primarily board-operated with parental support. 34 percent preferred total board operation. Of the 33 questionnaires completed by parents of both elementary and senior high students, 59 percent preferred total board operation and 24 percent wanted parent involvement. These preferences were taken into account when the district made its decision on kindergartens last spring.

GOOD TEACHERS BEST ASSET

*A result which should bring pleasure to the teaching staff was the answer to the question as to which are the best features of our schools. From several alternatives, good teachers topped the list with good student/teacher relationships close on its heels.

*On the question of discipline, while 53 percent of those tabulated with only elementary children felt that discipline was okay, those with either junior high or senior high or all three waived between not strict enough and just about right.

*A question dealing with communication between home and school, parent/teacher interviews were considered the most popular form of communication with newsletters next on the list.

ATTITUDES CLEAR ON VANDALISM

*On the sometimes touchy issue of pressing charges against vandals apprehended for damaging school property, 96 percent of parents with elementary students voted 'yes' to pressing charges. 93 percent of junior high parents voted in the same manner. 91 percent of those with students in all three levels of school voted 'yes' and a resounding 100 percent of those with children in junior and senior high voted 'yes.'

On the same line of thought the following ques-might be taken to the Premier himself by way of information.

If St. Albert withdrew from the Sturgeon Foundation, by right seniors in the town would still have the privilege to stay in appropriate accommodation, as would any citizen of Alberta. This was pointed out by Tim Cranfield, the project manager for Alberta Housing Corporation, in answer to some questions on this from Councillor Barry Breadner.

Mr. Cranfield said he believed that senior citizen accommodation in St. Albert would be given priority in the 1976 AHC budget and that the proposed development would be in the Sturgeon foundation area and possibly in St. Albert. In that event it would be located near parks and shops, Mr. Cranfield added.

He pointed out that the bachelor style accommodation would be in the $1 million price bracket.

As far as the site for the self-contained units went, Councillor Barry Breadner said he was not in favour of a site across the Sturgeon River. He did not want the development encroaching the river valley.

Mr. Cranfield told Coun. Breadner that while in terms of dollars there was a two week freeze likely, that did not extend to projects.

In answer to a question from Councillor Myrna Fyfe, Mr. Cranfield said that AHC worked on demographic information and that a survey of seniors had in fact been carried out in St. Albert over the summer. It had looked at their means of financial support and also the type of accommodation they were in at present.

Council passed a motion to carry on the consultation with the requisite groups and let the delegation know its findings.

As far as helping finance the project, Mrs. Szuba said that there was still some grant money left over from the New Horizons program.

She also told council of the heartache of seniors born in St. Albert who had had to move to other locations - "away from their roots" - to get more suitable accommodation.

burden would be 10 mills lower than now.

He said that some of the details of annexation would not be possible to lay in front of the people; the rest would be "o.k." but some was of a quasi-judicial nature which would have to come up before the Local Authorities Board.

The mayor emphasized that the main motive of council in the annexation was to fight for the existence of St. Albert and both the green belt and industry would help maintain this.

Councillor Gary Wetsch said that basically the MLA's questions related to dollars and cents and so did the town's; also that "industry would come to St. Albert if the location is right, whether it comes in five or 10 years."

Mr. Jamison's main point was, if the development of the annexation ever took place, would there be sufficient return in relation to all the servicing which St. Albert would have to provide before the bonanza came to the hard-pressed taxpayers of the town.

Councillor Barry Breadner said that at the moment council only had preliminary cost estimates, but that council and its consultants were working on information before a referendum took place. It was the taxpayers who would ultimately let St. Albert know if the annexation was wanted, said Councillor Frank Luky.

In answer to a question from Mr. Jamison, about compensating the MD of Sturgeon for any land taken by the St. Albert annexation, Mayor Dick Plain hoped that a compensation device could be developed as such a formula was not in existence now.

There was also hope expressed by Mr. Jamison that St. Albert and the MD of Sturgeon could go into a joint venture if industry came to the annexed portion of land.

Mayor Dick Plain stressed that St. Albert was not acting as a developer in this whole affair, nor was it usurping the private enterprise role - even if it might have been putting the cart before the horse, as the MLA put it.

Councillor Frank Luky said that St. Albert was not looking at heavy industry or large packing plants in the development.

While nothing final was available as to costs for servicing the proposed annexation, Councillor Myrna Fyfe emphasized that all these questions (like timing for the industrial park development) had been asked and that there would be the benefit of a reversal of traffic flow.

Coun. Thronson wanted everyone to keep an open mind on the question of major annexation and with that comment the discussion ended.

Paul Kane debate

all along to accommodate the Sturgeon students.

Once the new Sturgeon high school is built, the St. Albert school system will be free of their agreement. Mr. Gish said once that happens there would be no problem.

Mr. Hynew said that he was considering the question again this year and was getting further input from the students to see if in fact changes can be made.

The student supporters of the eight minute break said a questionnaire has been sent out. However they added that it hasn't reached all the students. They felt the principal wasn't working for the students on this matter.

The students said they had the support of three or four teachers. However these teachers were "afraid" to sign.

The students who want the longer break between periods want a chance for a breather between the long 80 minute classes. There were also complaints of some students not having enough time to make their English class on schedule.

The ones who want to retain the longer lunch hour need the extra time for extra-curricular activities.

Road program announced by MLA

St. Albert MLA Ernie Jamison announced a big road improvement program for several roads in the area at the regular meeting of St. Albert council Monday night.

Two lane hard-surfacing is slated for the following roads under the provincial government's 1976 road assistance program.

*From 170th Avenue east of St. Albert to 127th Street

then south to 137th Avenue;

*Next from 170th Street to 137th Avenue turning from that avenue across to the St. Albert Trail;

*The stretch from 137th Avenue to 125th Avenue on 156th Street;

The stretch from 137th Avenue to the St. Albert Trail will not be upgraded Mr. Jamison pointed out as there is a dangerous intersection at the Trail. If that section were upgraded, traffic lights would have to be placed at the spot and this would impede traffic.

The road improvements are the result of recommendations made by Mr. Jamison to the provincial government with the knowledge that the ring road and the St. Albert by-pass may be a few years down the road yet.

A MASSIVE ROAD improvement project slated for several roads between St. Albert and Edmonton may well help to cut down traffic snarls like the one here. The Provincial Government has just announced that the roads in question will be upgraded to two lane hardtop standard as part of the government's 1976 road improvement program.

Accident claims life

Bradley Neville Bauer, son of Mavis Bauer and the late John Bauer, was killed in a one vehicle accident early Sunday morning.

The 21 year old St. Albert man was travelling south on 156 Street in Edmonton when the vehicle went through a construction zone and overturned, partially pinning him beneath his car. Brad was the lone occupant of the car. Mass of Resurrection was held at noon today at the St. Albert Toman Catholic Church.

Father Tetreault passes

The community was saddened on the weekend to learn of the death of Father Gerard (Gerry) Tetreault OMI. He was stricken with a heart attack about 3:30 Saturday afternoon while taking a shower in his quarters at the Retreat House. The attack followed a previous one about two weeks ago, suffered while he was on holiday in Quebec. He was 60 years old.

Rev. Father Al Roy officiated at the funeral prayers said at St. Albert Roman Catholic Church on Tuesday evening at 8 p.m., and Mass of Resurrection was held this morning at 10:30. Bishop Henri Routhier, OMI officiated.

Seniors welcome for whist

Memberships, which cost

$1 per person, will be available on Thursday afternoon for anyone wishing to join.

The executive of the club is planning a program of activities for the fall and winter. In the meantime, whist and bingo are played on alternate Thursday afternoons at 1:30 p.m. and the Centre is open on Tuesday and Friday evenings from 7 - 9 p.m. for "dropping in."

After the whist party on Thursday, October 23, a social hour will be held when the people will have a chance to chat over a cup of coffee or tea and get to know each other.

The consultant bonanza

By KENNETH McDONALD
Remember the Glasco Commission on federal government organization? Between 1960 and 1962 it produced several hundred recommendations — in six volumes — on how to improve government efficiency at less cost. After announcing it would adopt certain recommendations, the government handed the job over to the same bureaucracy that was to be reorganized.

The bureaucrats' answer was to hire consultants to re-examine the recommendations and report back to them. Naturally the consultants weren't about to play down the importance of the people who had hired them or to recommend cutting out potential future employers — quite the reverse. Both parties had the same incentive — not to cut back but to build up.

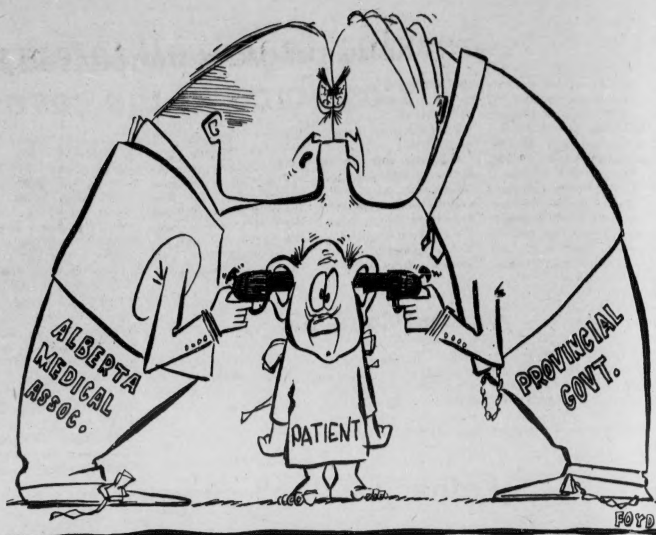

Ten years later the consultants are still busy, at an annual cost of about $1 billion in fees alone. The result: 443,192 federal civil servants in 1974 compared to 294,750 in 1962. That's about 12,000 more every year. We have new departments, new divisions of old departments, new agencies and more and more layers of highly paid officials regulating everything from egg prices to bilingual labels. What Canada needs is an updated Glasco report for action by Parliament, not by the bureaucracy.

Under the Consumer Labelling and Packaging Act, all non-food items sold in Canada since Sept. 1, 1975, require bilingual labels. The same will apply to food items from March 1, 1976. Last month a small Winnipeg oil company — Radio Oil — was threatened with seizure of more than $5,000 worth of antifreeze because the labels were in English only. A food importer — B.L. Marks, of Thornhill, Ont. — told the Canadian Federation of Independent Business that "a large part of our products will disappear from the market. Many of our suppliers will not make a separate bilingual package for Canada."

Quebec's Bill 22, which enforces French as the working language of Quebec, has created a storm among immigrants and English-speaking Quebecers, but it makes sense to French-speaking Quebecers trying to preserve their majority position, language and culture. What doesn't make any sense at all is Ottawa's policy of enforcing the use of French in the nine other provinces where the working language is English. French labels in Quebec, English labels everywhere else would save small business millions of dollars in lost trade, lost time and lost tempers.

The Editor:

The editorial of October 1, 1975, by publisher Ernie Jamison, M.L.A., interests me in that the statements of Town policy, negotiations with Mr. Bill Pue, and here-say comments attributed to me are incorrect.

If he is not prepared to prove these statements publicly, then it is your responsibility to publish a suitable retraction and apology.

PUBLISHER REPLIES:

The town's fastest rate of growth occurred in years when Mr. Gibbon was mayor. Plans were made for large scale expansion in the Northwest sector, Bellerose Park, Grandin Park, Forest Lawn, Akinsdale and Braeside with three major developers at work. The sewer line to accommodate a population of 105,000 was begun during his term. Sources of his comments regarding Mr. Pue's paper at the Chamber meeting will be provided if requested.

School support prices increased

Education Minister Julian Kozak has announced increases in the amounts of provincial support for school building construction.

The amount of support for permanent construction now ranges from $25 to $29 per square foot according to the size of construction.

Portables and relocate-able schools are now supported at $18 per square foot. Core schools are supported at $29 per square foot.

Additional support based on the distance factor from major construction centres now range from $1 to $4 extra per square foot.

The new rates will apply to all tenders approved by the Minister on or after July 1, 1975.

The changes result from the ongoing six-month monitoring and review of school construction costs.

A few days ago a five year old boy was almost run over as a truck passed a stationary school bus. There are more than 600 pre-Grade 1 children being bused in our town this year. Please, drivers, take the utmost care when following a school bus.

Co-ordinating Committee
Early Childhood Services
St. Albert Prot. Dist. No. 6.

Hockey uniforms

The Kinsmen Minor Hockey program for the coming season is rapidly approaching and the annual sweater and socks problem still exists. A large number of boys who were issued uniforms last season still have not turned them in to date. This problem costs the hard working Kinsmen Club a good deal of money each year as it works out to about $15 per uniform not turned in.

It's a lot of work replacing three or four sweaters per team as well as making up new sponsor crests.

I just cannot understand parents and coaches that know full well that their son has a sweater that they have not been turned in. They would be the first to complain if their son did not have one for this season and that could very easily happen this year. Boys who are known to have sweaters belonging to the Kinsmen may find themselves sitting in the stands this year.

Larry Mitchell,
Kinsmen Minor Hockey.

Committee of whole recommendations carried

Recommendations arising out of committee of the whole meeting - September 22, were carried at the regular meeting of St. Albert town council Monday night. They were:

*That council accept the recommendation from staff to approve the proposed subdivision of River Lot 13, St. Albert Settlement, based on ERPC policies in force.

*That a meeting be convened with representatives of the major mortgage companies dealing with residents of St. Albert, set out the situation to them and ask for their comments on the manner and way in which both the private sector and the municipal government can work to alleviate extraordinary increases on the residents' monthly payments.

*That Councillor Fyfe be authorized to attend the Preventive Social Services conference in Medicine Hat.

*That a contract be entered into with B. J. Graham Contracting Ltd. for the construction of rink shelters at Flagstone and Lacombe Park for the cost of $52,500 each.

*That the Town of St. Albert sponsor senior citizens self-contained accommodation facilities for development in 1976.

Seeking inner self through prayer - a living force in the seventies?

When he made arrangements to offer a study course, "An Introduction to Prayer," Father Charles Weekend of Newman College on St. Albert Trail really didn't know what the response of the general public might be.

So he was "surprised" when about 220 people were on hand in the chapel for the first program in the series of 12, held Monday evening, September 15, and some 180 came the second week. "I never before saw so many lay people coming to a college extension program," commented Father Weekend. The course concludes December 8th.

In this introductory course the college is trying to give lay people a "glimpse of all that is involved in prayer - a subject as broad as life itself, for prayer touches the very depths of life."

It is not an easy thing to do. The evening course is given by the same speakers on the college staff and from various parts of the country, who are presently conducting the course on prayer for about 40 students at the college, devoting three hours a week to it.

For the general public the lectures are compressed into one hour and time is provided for handling written questions from those attending.

Compressing the course, and presenting the lectures in language and format easily understood by the general public, presents difficulties for the speakers. "Some say it is too academic - others that it is not deep enough," noted Father Weekend. However we are endeavouring to give people a general introduction to the various dimensions of prayer in this manner, hoping it will help answer some of their questions and needs, he said.

Father Weekend feels there are "a fair number of people who want to rediscover prayer, to find their inner selves, to make contact with God on the deepest level.

People are worried about their children and families, he said, so the theological college must ask "what do we have to offer." Young people are getting away from prayer - why? Older ones are wondering how to pray - and how to teach their children to pray. People are presently experiencing a renewed need for prayer, Father Weekend feels, and they are wondering how to deal with it.

We also have teachers coming to the college to get help in teaching religion, he added. They seek a deeper knowledge to improve their teaching. And he noted that the separate school system in Edmonton will recognize the credits and degrees of these teachers.

The course on Prayer is one of a number of extension services which have been offered by Newman College. Despite that the fact that our people are so busy just with our students, said Father Weekend it is felt the college has a role to open up to the general public. As the college grows beyond a seminary to be really a theological college, serving the church, especially in Western Canada, it must reach out into the community, he believes. Newman is a provincially-approved college and a fair number of its students are not planning to be priests or nuns. Enrollment last year was approximately 180 full and part-time students.

There is a good spirit at this small college. "It is a nice thing about being on staff," Father Weekend said. There is a lot of dedication - people will double up work loads - they want the college to succeed. And there is also a good community life, he feels. The student enrollment is not too big and there is a togetherness at Newman from which all the people at the college draw support.

Asked what he felt was really behind the apparent renewed public interest in prayer, and whether it mainly had to do with "contemporary trends - charismatic renewal," the subject of the final session of the course, Father Weekend said "no - not really the charismatic thing, which is working itself out in the church."

Rather he went back to the several twists in direction taken since the Vatican Council in the mid-sixties. This was an exciting time in the church, he noted, when Pope Paul and Pope John generated enthusiasm for a more outgoing church. A church relating to the world with stress on breaking out of archaic positions. Doubts were generated as well, as the church began to put heavy stress on activity.

Inner understanding of all this activity was perhaps somewhat lost or neglected, said Father Weekend. As time went on therefore, people who had been so active in relating to worldly problems began "running out of gas." Activity, said Father Weekend can become meaning less - empty, and restricted to social service, if faith does not enter into the activity in any form.

"So the program on prayer looks at the past - at the roots of our religious heritage and culture."

This is a time when the church is not appealing that strongly to young people. It is a time when many young men and women run after other traditions. If cultures like those of the Far East and their tradition of practicing meditation are attracting people's interest, this indicates a search for the inner self and a seeking out of something solid to hang onto in a troubled world.

Such a time demands of church leaders a thoughtful re-examination of ways to make our Judean-Christian heritage of faith the anchoring rock it should be and can be, for the young, and for all men and women having that heritage.

A glimpse of the dimensions of prayer may be a first step in that re-examination for those involved in the current study program at Newman College.

tion was, "should the board attempt to recover costs of damage due to vandalism." A 'yes' vote was recorded by the various categories as follows: Elementary, 88%; Junior High, 91%; All three, 86%; Junior and Senior High, 94%. The percentage of don't knows for this question was slightly higher than that for the previous question.

The question "Do you think the study of French should be compulsory in grades 1 to 3" received a fairly even percentage of 'yesses' and 'no's' but parents appear to favour compulsory French in grades 4 to 6 with percentages in the area of 60 to 70 percent. This trend differed, however, with the grades 7 to 9. Parents of junior high students voted 'yes' by only 30 percent and parents with students in all three levels voted 55 percent 'no'.

Sex education in grades 1 to 3 received a fairly even response of positive and negative votes. The same question for grades 4 to 6 received a more positive response.

CATHOLIC - PROTESTANT INTERACTION FAVOURED

Two interesting questions concerning relationships with the Catholic School District were asked. Provided both school districts were in agreement, more than 90 percent of parents in all categories thought that high school children should be allowed to attend the school of their choice (Catholic or Protestant). A similar reaction was received to combining some programs at the high school level (Catholic and Protestant) so that a greater variety of courses could be offered.

Most parents favoured the school year starting after the Labour Day weekend. Most parents favoured retention of the traditional Easter week holiday in preference to the institution of an established spring break in March each year.

Sixty minute lunch breaks were regarded as the most desirable length of time.

Most parents were generally in favour of the district providing a more comprehensive further education program and of these the majority would themselves be interested in taking classes.

WI begins new season

The first meeting of the W.I. after the summer holidays was held on September 30 at the home of Marg Dalman with 18 members and one guest present. The roll call was "come as you are when called." The ladies came in everything from night attire to aprons, which proves we have a lot of good sports in our group.

Pat Doerksen, district home economist, spoke on nutrition. She gave out a questionnaire to fill out first, then showed a movie which pretty well answered all of the questions. After the movie, all the questions were discussed and corrected on our sheets. In these days of high food prices, it is imperative to know how to feed your family a nutritious diet for the least cost.

Our group decided to donate $20 to Mental Health this year as we are not going to sell candles. It was reported that the tulips that were bought through the Legion have been planted at the Community Hall grounds. We will have two members attend the conference on Family Finance and Consumer Law that will be held at the Mayfair Hotel. This is a subject that is to be studied this year by W.I. groups wishing to do so.

St. Albert Council Briefs

Following are some of the highlights from the regular meeting of St. Albert town council last Monday night. Mayor Dick Plain was in the chair with all councillors present except Myrna Fyfe.

COUNCIL MOVED in principle a lane closure amounting to .16 of an acre for a 64 suite consolidated development at Grosvenor Boulevard and Gainsborough Road. Egon P. Tensfeldt Development wants to develop the property. Council had little objection to this, but there were fears expressed that surface drainage from the development might be more than present sewage facilities could handle. The firm are anxious to put in a storm sewer connection to right this situation.

COUNCIL MOVED to the Parks and Recreation Board a request from the St. Albert Peeewe Soccer team that St. Albert donate the balance of $170 for a $320 charter Greyhound trip to Calgary for the Alberta Championship held September 28. The boys' parents contributed the sum of $150, as it was felt that a chartered bus would have a greater safety factor than an individual car.

THE TOWN gave the St. Albert Branch of the Royal Canadian Legion notice that November 3 - 8 would be "Poppy Week" and that a "Tag Day" could be conducted November 8 to give out poppies on a door to door canvas, and in town business areas.

THE ST. ALBERT Public Library will be offered the right of first refusal for the existing town hall when the premises are vacated by town administration and staff. A letter from the library points out that the existing buildings are not adequate for the population served and the books held.

The letter also added that there seemed little hope that further expansion would occur at the present site. The letter was received, by council.

WHILE IT WAS at first decided to award the town's total contract for fuel to Texaco, Councillor Barry Breadner moved that the motion be tabled till next council meeting. On an overall basis of the questions received from Texaco, that company yielded the lowest cost. Shell Oil yielded the lowest cost for grease and oil. For gasoline, the quotation from Pacific Petroleum was the lowest.

A LETTER will be sent to the chairman of each St. Albert School Board indicating council's willingness to invite the schools to participate in local government. This will be done by St. Albert inviting two students (male and female) selected by the boards to spend a working day with Mayor of St. Albert, Dick Plain. This would include the taking in of one council meeting.

TOWN STAFF will consider for the 1976 budget a pedestrian crosswalk on St. Vital Avenue opposite the Youville Home and on Bishop Street at the location requested by the residents.

Fire department inspecting homes here

This year members of the Fire Department will be calling on homes in St. Albert. Upon your invitation, they will carry out an inspection of your residence and leave with you a completed inspection form. It is hoped that you will follow through with the recommendations and keep your home "Fire Safe."

Any resident in the Town of St. Albert who would like to have their home inspected - and are not in the area for inspections this year - are asked to phone 459-7021 and give their name, address and phone number.

Fire Prevention is everyone's business and Fire Prevention is each and every day of the year.

Home inspection will be carried out on the following days and times: October 8, 9, 10, 13, 14, 15, 16 and 17 between 9 and 11 a.m., and 2 to 3:30 p.m. Inspections will also be carried out between the hours of 7 and 8 p.m. on October 14, 21 and 28.

An open house will be held at the Fire Hall between 9 and 12 a.m., and 1 to 3:30 p.m. on Saturday.

The St. Albert fire department would like to thank you all for your co-operation. They ask for your help in keeping our community safe from the ravages of fire.

Do you really think it can't happen to you?

Inspections will be done this year on five crescents in Lacombe Park and Braeside, four in Forest Lawn and Grandin Park and three crescents each in Akinsdale and Sturgeon Heights.

ALBERTA'S LARGEST REALTOR

John MacMillan married in Yellowknife

St. Patrick's Roman Catholic Church in Yellowknife, NWT was the scene of a lovely autumn wedding on September 20, when Sandra, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Williams of Erskine, Alberta and Richard, only son of Mr. and Mrs. John MacMillan of St. Albert, Alberta exchanged marriage vows. Rev. Fr. Duchaussois, OMO officiated at the double ring ceremony.

The bride was given in marriage by her brother Cliff of Grande Prairie, Alberta, in absence of her father who regretfully could not attend due to illness. She looked very sweet in a gown of Pompadour satin fashioned on princess lines with a high neckline, long full sleeves banded in silver sequins, and ending in a slight train. A lace Mantilla of finger-tip length completed her ensemble. She carried a bouquet of rosebuds encircled by mums, carnations and daisies in autumn hues. Her only jewellery was a gold nugget pendant, a gift from the groom. As she approached the pew where her mother sat, the bride paused a moment to present her mom with a beautiful long-stemmed red rose. She then repeated this gesture to the groom's mom.

The bride's sister, Mrs. Betty VanWart of Rocky Mountain House, as bridesmaid, was charming in a gown of polyester crepe in tones of rust and brown with which she wore a floppy hat made from the same material as her gown. Her bouquet of carnations, mums and daisies carried out the autumn theme.

The groom looked very nice, too, in dark pants topped by a turquoise blue tuxedo, the collar of which was navy blue with the lapels edged in navy. A pale blue ruffled shirt and large navy bowtie completed his attire. His boutonniere was a yellow carnation.

The best man, Bud Bekar, a friend of the groom, wore a dark brown tuxedo, a coral-coloured ruffled shirt and a yellow carnation boutonniere.

The mother of the bride looked lovely in a pink floral gown with long sheer sleeves. Her corsage was of yellow centred white baby mums. The groom's mother chose a pastel blue tricot suit with which she wore a pale pink blouse and white baby mums on corsage.

Ross Williams, brother of the bride, and Randy Waddell, a friend of the groom, acted as ushers. Organ music for the wedding ceremony was played by John Hanlan of Yellowknife.

Following the marriage service, a reception was held at the Explorer Hotel attended by some 40 guests. Miss Ester Boyce, a close friend of the bride, was in charge of the guest book. The banquet room was decorated in flowers of tissue in yellow and white spelling Richard and Sandra - and would you believe? - MacMillan and Wife - opposite their names!

A beautiful wedding cake, iced in white and shades of yellow - (carried all the way from Erskine by the bride's mother) - centered the bride's table, flanked on each side by tall white candles encircled in floral arrangements.

John Lunn, the groom's brother-in-law, was a very capable master of ceremonies. He first introduced himself to the assembled guests and then proceeded to introduce the head table thus - Mrs. Williams, her son Cliff, the bridesmaid Betty VanWart, the bride and groom, the best man Bud Bekar, Mrs. MacMillan, Mr. MacMillan, Doris Lunn, the groom's sister and from there the out of town guests. Mr. Sid Hancock was then called upon to say grace. Mr. Norm Macleod of Yellowknife proposed a very appropriate toast to the bride to which the groom replied. Bud Bekar proposed a toast to the bridesmaid. The emcee then asked the guests to rise and drink a toast to the many absent members and friends of the Williams and MacMillan families, scattered in as far distant places as California, Massachusetts and of course "sunny Alberta." Telegrams and greetings were received from Edmonton, Calgary and Vancouver. The happy newlyweds are making their home in Yellowknife.

Guides honoured at Tamarac meeting

A tribute to Yellowhead Guide Mrs. John Malden and a talk by a very active 1909 Guide were the main events of the Tamarac area dinner meeting, held September 25 at Club Mocombo in St. Albert.

Mrs. Malden, Yellowhead division commissioner, has received the certificate of merit from Tamarac area Guide commissioner Mrs. W. O'Hara. The certificate, a blue and gold ribbon, is awarded for service in Guiding.

led Guides and Rangers and has served as camp advisor. She was instrumental in opening Guide companies in Spruce Grove, Alberta Beach and Onoway as well as in Stony Plain. She is also a volunteer worker in Stony Plain Public Library.

Mrs. Canadine, the main speaker, and provincial commissioner Mr. L. E. Smith, were presented with Father Lacombe spoons. Mrs. Canadine, a trim, brisk, 80 year old globe-trotter, brought greetings from Lady Baden-Powell, whose activities are reduced by ill health. Mrs. Canadine described the first Girl Guide patrol, the 1909 Wolf patrol, the 1974 world conference of Guides and Girl Scouts and her work with Malta Guides.

Mrs. Canadine, whose husband was a navy chaplain, has served Guides in Malta, Egypt, Africa, Hong Kong, England, United States and Canada. During World War II and for several years afterward she cared for seven other children in addition to her own two. Her home base is in Sussex county, England, where she is general advisor. She left St. Albert for San Francisco and Japan to participate in more Guiding activities.

To Church on horseback

It was a church service with a difference at the Presbyterian Church on Sir Winston Churchill Avenue last Sunday morning.

Instead of the minister driving up in a Cadillac, the accent was on the past and Rev. Noel Gordon cantered up to the church on a steed named Moriah much to the delight of his congregation, some of whom were dressed in period pieces from a hundred years ago.

Both pastor and congregation were celebrating a hundred years of the Presbyterian Church in Canada.

Rev. Gordon, face ruddy and smiling broadly said it took him about 35 minutes to get himself and his steed to the church from a point half a mile north of St. Albert. There was no problem with any traffic though during the sermon in church the pastor jokingly referred to two holes in his hat and wondered if by any chance he had any enemies in St. Albert who had been out to get him while out on his ride.

The actual church service which was a replica of what it might have been 100 years ago and was about one hour 20 minutes duration and was crammed with hymn and psalm singing. The sermon, the pastor cautioned was not what he might usually deliver and he had cut it down from an original text by one third. The sermon lasted about 35 minutes. It was on the theme "Now we see through a glass darkly, then face to face."

It was a little wordy and stylised, but then that is what it was like for churchgoers 100 years ago.

Prayers for the Monarch and the Royal Family were said and the offerings were taken, not on plates, but bags on long wooden poles.

There was no organist during the service, again a departure from present practice.

One extra at the service which wouldn't have been there 100 years ago was a Gazette reporter who couldn't resist the pastor's hearty 19th century style welcome after he had dismounted - "Will you come and worship with us?" Who could decline such an invitation. Bill Bissonnette was Clerk of the Session and after the service a sign was erected outside the church commemorating the church's Centennial. Lloyd Sherburne, chairman of the Centennial committee helped the pastor officiate at this.

A fine meal was served for the congregation in the basement of the church with hot tea or coffee, to take the chill off the cool October morning.

Students run, jog, swim and skate to the Olympics

As part of Vital Grandin's Intramural Program, students in grades 4, 5 and 6 are working to earn enough "Olympic Miles" to have their houses reach Montreal and the 1976 Olympics.

One "Olympic Mile" may be earned by:

1. Running one mile without resting
  2. Skating continuously for 10 minutes
  3. Cycling three miles
  4. Swimming 200 meters
- Each student has a recording chart and entries to the chart must be initiated by an adult or the student's Phys. Ed teacher to ensure that their entries are valid.

With each House trying to accumulate 2,640 miles; Sioux House leads with 228 points as of October 1. Apache House is second with 190, followed by Blackfoot House with 185 and Commanche with 157. Colin Porowski, a grade four student in Mr. Campbell's room and a competitive swimmer has accumulated 77 miles by himself.

Vital Grandin's Intramural is quite extensive including Cross-Country running, soccer, bordenball, volleyball, newcomb ball, basketball and floor hockey and includes all grades 4, 5 and 6 students. All games are at noon hour and students act as referees and scorekeepers. Participation is the key word and all students take part in these activities.

As well, there are novelty days such as the Muk Luk games, track and field, arm and leg wrestling, mini-golf, club days and more that provide fun and competition for the students.

Perhaps, one day, an ex-V.G. student may participate in the Olympics in some event that he or she may have first learned about at V.G. Elementary School.

St. Albert High News

SPORTS EVENTS

St. Albert High's volleyball teams began their season last week with the senior teams playing in the North Central Division, and the junior teams playing in the City Senior Division.

The "always strong" senior girls team won three out of four games, losing one game to Paul Kane. The junior girls started off a little shaky in a tough league leaving the court with a three and nine win-loss record.

The junior boys started their season off right. They are going into this week's matches with a six and two win-loss record, their losses going to the Bonnie Doon Lancers.

The senior boys team are starting off in the hole. They played very aggressively and won their first game against Archbishop Jordan, but slackened their defense and dropped the next three games to bring their win-loss record to one and three. But we expect this record to be improved next week.

At the C.A.P.H.E.R. cross country meet last Saturday St. Albert High School made an excellent showing. The participants in the event were Henry Van Wyk, Kathy Rothermel, Philip Cordell, MaryAnne Sanche, Greg Cariou, Lorraine Gravelle, Ron Bruinink, Jeananne Kathol and Wayne White.

Red Rooster win

Standard General was beat by Lacombe Park Red Roosters Saturday 22-6 at Langley Park.

A good crowd was on hand to see a very close game fought between two well-balanced teams, and except for two late touchdowns could have ended in a tie.

Lacombe Park Red Rooster opened early in the first quarter with a 20 yard run by Robert Morrison at 1:40.

In the second quarter Standard General put it all together with Kevin Plaisant scoring on a six yard run on the last play of the half.

Dwayne Malone caught the pass which set up the T.D.

No further scoring was recorded until 10:00 of the fourth quarter when Roy Kampen scored on a 10 yard reverse play. Gordon McRae then added the two point convert.

McRae also scored at 11:30 on a quarterback sneak which he also converted for two points.

Red Rooster defense was spearheaded by Murray Pennington who recovered a fumble and sacked the quarterback.

Willowbrook Homes	5	5	0	118	70	10
Lacombe Park Red Rooster	5	3	2	118	71	6
Standard General	5	2	3	67	94	4
Carma Crusaders	5	0	5	57	125	0

Willowbrook record intact

The spunky Carma Crusaders had the league leaders on the ropes Saturday and almost upset them in a see-saw battle of pee-wee competition. The final outcome was 15-12 for Willowbrook Homes. Carma Crusaders opened the scoring at 7:40 of the first quarter with quarterback Mark Akins galloping for the 19 yards major. Willowbrook Homes speedy back, Dennis Sabourin evened the score at 10:30 with a 78 yard run and went ahead on Brent Biollo's 20 yard field goal. The score at the half was 9-6 for Willowbrook Homes.

In the third, Carma Crusaders scored on broken-field running by Mark Akins and went ahead 12-9. Willowbrook fought back in the fourth quarter and at 6:20 on Sabourin's seven yard run completed the scoring.

The final league games will be played Wednesday and Thursday nights at 6 p.m.

Wednesday, October 8 - Carma Crusaders vs. Lacombe Park Red Roosters;

Thursday, October 9 - Standard General vs. Willowbrook Homes.

Hinton, Lloydminster, Wainwright, St. Paul, Vermilion, Vegreville, Grande Centre, Barrhead and Edson. The league opens November 1st.

Even is looking for any player 20 years of age or younger residing in St.

It is most important to attend Thursday's practice. If you are unable to come, please phone Mr. Ewen at 459-4263.

Players are asked to be fully dressed and be ready to practice at 7:30 p.m. sharp.

IT WAS STILL TIME for tennis in St. Albert last week, but the week also saw some cold Arctic vortexes blast through the area; so this kind of scene will be seen less and less as the year goes on.

Saturday morning the St. Albert Bantam Football Club decisively thrashed Sawfay Seals 31-6, who prior to this game had not tasted defeat.

St. Albert opened quickly on the first set of plays, with their big gun, Dave Cailing, exploding on a 45 yard sweep for the first of his three touchdowns. His second major came later in the quarter on a take noid goal attempt and a 10 yard pass into the end zone from Peter Tworek. Another rushing play later in the game completed Cailing's spectacular day of scoring.

Brian McCann, who was one of many players forced to play both ways, found a gaping hole and scampered on a 10 yard run for his major score.

The defense led by Guy Derieu, Sean Sullivan and Damar Dupin frustrated the good Sawfay offense, all day. This is evidenced by the fact that the Sawfay club never crossed midfield into the second half when they scored their touchdown. The defensive squad was so fired up they blocked a punt which Sullivan scooped up and lumbered 23 yards for his first six point major.

Peter Tworek who engineered the offense throughout the game, but was hampered by rain and muddy field conditions, converted Sullivan's T.D.

The St. Albert club showed a lot of class and poise in ignoring the obvious intimidation plays by certain members of the Sawfay Seals when releasing their frustrations of an inept performance.

The only serious injury was to Sean Sullivan who apparently aggravated a hamstring muscle but our Captain Sully reports he will be back in action in about a week.

The MD of Sturgeon was represented by Bill Flynn and Mayor Dick Plain and Town Administrator Bob Byron attended the ceremony on behalf of St. Albert. Also there was Mayor Art Stapleton of Morinville, and Deputy Mayor of Gibbons Mrs. M. Van Noord as well as other village officials.

The complex will give the village excellent fire fighting capability, fine office space and council chambers as well as housing for the Bon Accord volunteer ambulance service which covers that district.

Total cost of the building was about $130,000 with $40,631 of the labour costs being forgiven.

Mayor Archie Jenins described the opening of the complex as a red letter day for the village and wished that the last council he particularly remembered for getting the project going.

There was a time when Bon Accord was only a site by some railway tracks the mayor pointed out taking the mind's eye back some 60 years.

The village was incorporated January 1, 1964 and the first council was formed in March of that year. The first council held its meeting in the Alberta Wheat Pool Elevators office. The initial assessment of the village was a low $200,000 compared with today's figure of $1 1/2 million with the village still growing and the population at the 800 mark.

Mayor Jenkins was the village's original secretary-treasurer and told the crowd that he remembered when his monthly paycheck was only $60.00.

The mayor pointed out that Bon Accord had always been famed for co-operation between community organizations and that was really how it got its name.

He looked forward to enjoying the future in Bon Accord, with the accent being on controlled growth, though the mayor pointed out that the village was continually getting requests for more services and shopping centres.

When the time came round for presentations, Mr. A. Swan, principal government program co-ordinator gave the village a fine painting for the complex and Mayor Dick Plain gave the village a plaque from the Town of St. Albert. MLA Mr. Jamison presented the flag to some local scouts, brownies and guides and it was later hoisted up the flag-pole after the brief ribbon cutting ceremony.

Mr. Jamison also gave a few brief words saying that for him Bon Accord was one of the finest settings in Sturgeon and he was sure that it was a place where people would want to come and live. The pace was not too fast, nor the growth and the village had not got ahead of its utilities, the MLA said. He also singled out Mr. Mansfield and the ambulance service as something the village should be specially proud of.

W. J. Franc and Associates were engineers for the project and contractors were Len More Construction of Morinville.

Kind hearted Horner

"Just a kind hearted Dr. Horner," said a spokesman for the MD of Sturgeon #90 last Thursday when asked why an additional $50,000 had been earmarked by Transportation to the MD's regular road grant.

The MD's regular road grant for this year amounts to $320,717.

There seems to have been no real urgency related to the grant but the spokesman for the MD added that the extra cash will be used for oiling and graveling MD roads.

Spotlight on Sturgeon Morinville's proposal for sewer line tie-in

There could be a joint statement from Morinville and St. Albert after a meeting October 15 where the two municipalities will discuss problems relating to Morinville tying into the St. Albert sewer line.

Recently the Town of St. Albert sent a report on the tie-in by Stanley and Associates Engineers Ltd. to Morinville which gave that community three alternatives for system usage.

None of the alternatives are quite right for Morinville according to Morinville Mayor Art Stapleton but he is hoping that something can be sorted out with St. Albert at the mid-October meeting so that the "people are not left dangling."

The mayor said that Morinville's consultants Associated Engineers have come up with another alternative which better suits Morinville.

He definitely rules out alternative "C" as set out in the Stanley Associates report. Mayor Stapleton also points out that at the moment he is unable to say much about the Associated Engineers proposal since it is confidential to St. Albert and the Department of the Environment.

Alternative "C," sees St. Albert providing the sewage transmission and treatment services to outside users and also assessing the service charge to recover both capital and operating costs. Mayor Stapleton said that he rules this one out because of "financial implications."

Morinville has also rejected alternative "A" where St. Albert would retain its sewage treatment and transmission capacity for its own long term usage.

The other alternative which Morinville has hedged on would see St. Albert provide service in the treatment and transmission system to outside users for a capital contribution. Operating and maintenance costs would be recovered through a service charge.

H & S asks support in Morinville

Once again a new school year has started. The Morinville Home and School Association strongly urges parents and young people to support them by taking out a membership card this year. A family membership entitles high school students to become members.

The Association has many objectives. One is to promote the welfare of children and youth through the co-operation of parents and teachers in their training and guidance. Others are to obtain the best for each child according to his needs, and to promote better communication between the school and the community, and many others.

Monday, October 14 the Home and School are having a "Meet the Teacher" night at the Georges P. Vanier School. This will give all an opportunity to come and meet the new teachers from grade 1 to 12. It will also give people a chance to voice their opinions and feelings about certain things, such as how they feel towards various school activities or courses.

Come on out Monday night, let us know you care. Take out a membership, we need you to help our children for now and in the future.

In return, the Association promises you a year of interesting programs and projects that will benefit all of our children.

GIBBONS NEWS

By Karen Hogg
This is one of my favorite events of the year. The annual Thanksgiving supper of the Anglican Church of Gibbons. It is a turkey and ham dinner, and believe me you sure get your monies worth. The supper will be on October 18 from 5:30 to 8 p.m. The price is $3 for adults 12 and over, and $1.50 for children 6 to 12 years of age. There will also be a bazaar and bake table. So get your family together and go down for a good meal and a real enjoyable time.

The Gibbons Firemen are sure going to do a good deed for Gibbons. During Fire Prevention Week which is October 5 to the 11. When the two volunteer firemen come to your door they will be asking you for your new phone number as of November 1. They will be making a new phone list for all of Gibbons, and everyone shall receive one complimentary of our fire department.

The arena would like to announce that Public Skating will be held every Tuesday from 4 to 5:30. You can buy a tag for $6 for the season or pay $0.50 everytime you go out.

For the people interested in curling in Redwater on Friday nights, there will be a meeting in the mezzanine on October 16 at 8 p.m. Any teams or anyone interested please attend this meeting.

Boy Scouts are reminded of their meetings to be held every Sunday at 1:30 in the hall.

The Hall Board would like everyone to get out their costumes or dress as you like for their hallowe'en beefsteak on November 1 at 8:30. The band will be the "Sundowners." Prices and further news will be in future editions of the Gazette.
